a. That this report is one of a category of raw and unevaluated reports which demand unusual source protection and which CIA would not release beyond the intelligence community in any event because ~~its~~ it is completely unevaluated. (In other words, CIA would never release anything other than finished material).

b. That the report is concerned chiefly with these two people that we have discussed before, and that the report essentially was transmitting the four Dun and Bradstreet reports more than anything else.

c. That a CIA man has read the Commerce Department record which the subcommittee has seen and that there is nothing in the report about it which is not in that record.
